

BOY SAYS SHOOTING WAS AN ACCIDENT

Edward Grider Tells How He Got the Pistol He Carried.

for. And as he came up to the party standing on the porch, of which my poor little girl was one, some one said to him, "Eddie, here's a piece of candy," and he answered, "No, thank you, I don't want a piece of candy, but I am going to shoot Eddie." Standing in the crowd, Grider tells a different tale. According to his story, there was no shadow of any premeditation on the part of the boy, but it was caused by Miss Sarey accidentally throwing her hand against the gun.

Grider admitted that there had been some trouble some time ago between himself and Miss Sarey, but denied that there had been any sort of a quarrel. "We had been keeping steady company," he said, "and she started going with some one else a little bit. I went up to her and told her that there was no quarrel between us, but that we would be steady company any more. We both agreed to this. However, I went with her a good deal after that and we were fine friends. I tell you it was entirely accidental."

How He Got Revolver.
The youth admitted that he had no permit to carry a pistol. He described the way he got the revolver. "I borrowed a gun from a kid some time ago, and just a few minutes after that I saw a 'cop' search the kid for it. Then I called to the kid, and gave him back the gun; the cop searched me and did not find it. "A day or so after the kid came to me, and in a joking way I told him the cop had found the gun on me and that he would give me the gun, and did so. That is how I got the gun. "One of the triggers of the gun is broken, and so goes off easily. When I walked up to the group last night, I took out the pistol to show the broken trigger and to show that it was a joke. I was swinging her hand around, and it went off. It was entirely accidental."

Was "Almost Crazy."
"I was almost crazy then. I walked about nine blocks before I knew what I was doing. I haunted any place where I could find out about her. Then finally I went home. I was so scared when the officers came that I ran to the shed and got on the roof. When they came, I got under a pile of bed ticking in the loft. Then they pulled me out, and I saw that there were three of them and it was no use. I reached to my hip pocket and presented the gun to them, the muzzle in my hand."

According to the detectives who arrested Grider, he did not come peacefully. Miss Sarey lived with her grandmother at 308 Virginia avenue southwest. Her mother died about three years ago, and her father, H. H. Sarey, remarried and has left the city.

Released From Reform School.
Young Grider is seventeen years old, and was released from the reform school only last May. His mother is said to be in an asylum at present, and he lived with his father at 735 Ninth street northwest. He was employed at a Seventh street southwest bakery. Miss Sarey worked at Judd & Detweiler's, First street and Florida avenue northeast.

The arrest of the youth was made by Officers Embrey, Evans, Baur and Kelly, who have the case in charge. It was only after an exciting chase that they were able to apprehend him. He was seen standing near the Wounded Girl Hospital shortly after the wounded girl was carried there. The police were notified, but when they arrived he had disappeared.

Found In Outhouse.
About midnight Police Headquarters learned that Grider had returned to the home of his relatives, and Central Office Detectives Evans, Kelly, and Embrey, and Sergeant Evans and Policeman Jackson went there. While two of the officers covered the house the others went inside.

Grider fled before them, and ran to an outhouse. Climbing to the loft, he covered himself with a pile of bed ticking. When the detectives searched they found him under the bed.

Detective Kelly pulled him out.

HOT WATER THE BEST LIVER AND BOWEL MEDICINE
Says Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast Washes Poisons From System.
Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do.
Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.
Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs.
Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.—Adv.

MARYLAND SEEKS TO REMEDY AUTO GLARE

Government and Automobile Club Aroused by Accidents Along Boulevard.

bly Club of Maryland. Many of these are serving as deputy commissioners without pay and assisting, and assisting in the prosecution of, reckless drivers. Osborne I. Yellott, counsel to the club, and also chairman of the legislative committee of the Automobile Club of America, is himself one of these deputies, and the police court records show that there is hardly a day passes that he has not arrested or reported one or more owners or chauffeurs.

"It is to the interest of the vast majority of automobile owners," he said, "who are careful in the use of their cars, to co-operate in every possible way with the authorities to put down reckless driving. Practically every improvement in the Maryland automobile laws—and I am in position to know that they are the best in the country—has been made not only with the co-operation, but at the instance of the Automobile Club."

Lamps Not Yet Perfected.
"The matter of headlights on cars has been a subject of serious study with us, so much so that, in the hope of finding a light that will serve the purpose without blinding people, the club has taken it upon itself to try out all possible kinds of lights. The solution is coming soon, I am sure, for the manufacturers are working on the problem every day in the year, and will soon be in position, I believe, to provide a lamp that will meet the needs and at a cost cheap enough to make it available for everybody.
"Along dark stretches of road in the country it is often imperative to have lights that will cast far enough ahead to enable the driver to avoid bad ruts and locate curves in the road. Ultimately lights of this kind will be found with a front glass sufficiently graded to do away with the blinding glare without sacrificing the penetrative power of the lights."

Road Patrols Suggested.
It was suggested to Mr. Yellott, that, pending the perfection of such lights it might be well to have all the curves in the Washington-Baltimore boulevard so well lighted as to make the use of search lights unnecessary, and also to have a patrol stationed at each of the bad curves to prohibit speeding and the use of glare lights. While admitting the possibility of such a course, he complained that the expense at this time might be prohibitive.

"On the other hand," he said, "the Automobile Commissioners, by reason of efforts which our club made before the Legislature at the last session, was allowed $5,000 for the employment of four motorcycle patrolmen to enforce speed and traffic regulations. These, however, he has to use all over the State.
"Ultimately, though, I think that the receipts from automobile licenses will be so great—they are near the million mark now—as to justify a diversion of part of them from the up-keep of the roads to the employment of a sufficient force of patrols."

ROBBED OF GEMS; "MIGHT BE WORSE"
Quaker City Jeweler Qualifies as Optimist After Theft.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—Matteo Galdi, jeweler, is a devotee of sunshine and optimism. The evidence:
Yesterday at 4 o'clock Mrs. Galdi left the door for a moment and a man entered and filled a bag with $1,500 worth of jewelry. Two confederates met him on the corner and the three of them got away before Mrs. Galdi discovered the robbery.

Mr. Galdi came home later and the news was broken to him gently. But so much care was not necessary. For Mr. Galdi is quick in retrospection and in framing his outlook for the future. He merely said:
"Two days ago he had $2,200 worth of diamonds in the window to be sold. Just think how unhappy we would be had the robbers filched those marvelous gems. We should rejoice that it was not a $2,700 robbery."

LAY CORNERSTONE OF NEW HOSPITAL

Alexandria Building Is Started With Historic Trowel That Laid Capitol Stone.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 12.—The corner stone of Alexandria's new city hospital was laid yesterday afternoon at 6 o'clock. The exercises were in charge of Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons. Worshipful Master C. Page Weller wielded the historic trowel, which was used in laying of the cornerstone of the Capitol and Washington Monument. Frank W. Latham officiated as marshal, and the Old Dominion Commandery was escort.

The Rev. W. J. Morton, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, delivered the oration. The Rev. Dr. John Lee Allison, chaplain of the lodge made the prayer of invocation. Dr. William Smith represented the medical staff of the hospital. The building will cost about $50,000.

The city council met for its first business session of the year last night. C. Keith Carlin was elected alderman in the Third ward to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of J. D. Brockett. William P. Wells was elected in the First ward in place of F. F. Marbury.

FARMER A SUICIDE, BELIEVED SCARECROW
FON DU LAC, Wis., Sept. 12.—Neighbors of Albert Engel commented on the realistic scarecrow he had erected in his cornfield, but when they called to ask him about it he was not at home. His family said he had not been there for a couple of days.
This morning Peter Raul stopped to inspect the scarecrow and found it was the body of the farmer himself. He must have been hanging in the tree at least a day and a night, and a score of neighbors and automobile parties had passed without realizing the fact. Engel had hanged himself, without taking his hat off, and the wide brim concealed his features.

HAY'S HAIR HEALTH DARKENED HER GRAY HAIR
Used by Mrs. Zilgens Because So Easy and Safe—and Not a Dye.

"My hair was getting so gray I was ashamed of it. I also had a great deal of dandruff. Some one recommended your HAY'S HAIR HEALTH—and I can truthfully say that at the end of one week the dandruff had quite disappeared and my hair had become a dark natural color again. Just as I was so anxious for it to be, and no one knew I was using anything. I was careful to use regularly each night. I am glad I can recommend it to any one needing a good hair tonic."
Yours truly,

The police are looking for four young men who, after joyriding in the machine of Dr. Homer G. Fuller, of 1881 Columbia road northwest, for several hours yesterday evening, left it wrecked at Tenth and F streets northwest, last night.
The machine was taken from in front of the doctor's home about 6 o'clock yesterday evening. Hens Should Hurry Eggs Are Scarce

Department of Agriculture Issues Figures Showing Shortage in Storage Stocks.
The hen has no excuse for loafing on the job. On the contrary there is every reason connected with the high cost of living why she should get busy.
In other words, an official bulletin of the Department of Agriculture, issued today, shows that there are 16.9 per cent fewer cases of eggs in cold storage in the United States at the present time than there were on August 1.
In the South Atlantic section, including the ballistics of the hens of Maryland, Virginia, and the District of Columbia, the decrease amounts to 25.5 per cent when compared with figures for last year.

Cocoon Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.
Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulberry cocoon oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.
Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff, and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.
You can get mulberry cocoon oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.—Adv.
